R.S., c. C-34, s. 296

2. Prevention of Wrongful Convictions

Wrongful convictions result in a miscarriage of justice, and significant harm to the convicted person. When the criminal justice system fails, the human cost can be substantial, and public confidence in the justice system is lost. Therefore, Crown counsel must always be scrupulous in their role as ministers of justice to prevent wrongful convictions and to zealously guard against it.

Crown counsel must be mindful of the "environmental" or "predisposing circumstances" that have been identified as fostering wrongful convictions. These circumstances include:

- Tunnel vision (potentially caused by unconscious bias or close contact between Crown counsel, investigative agencies, or victims); Footnote4
- Decisions influenced by biases, including racial bias, stereotypes, or prejudices of any kind;
- Public pressure to convict in high-profile cases;
- Inadequate or misinterpreted evidence;
- Eyewitness identification error;
- False confessions;
- An unpopular accused;
- A legal environment or culture which focuses on winning; and
- The presence of what has been labelled "noble cause corruption," or the belief that the end justifies the means.

3. Duty to present a fair, clear, and comprehensible case

Crown counsel should be mindful of the principle of moderation in the use of criminal enforcement powers, the accused's constitutional right to have a trial within a reasonable time, and the appropriate use of state resources. This means that Crown counsel must structure their case in a manner that allows the trier of fact to understand and digest the evidence effectively and efficiently.

The practice of overcharging is not appropriate, whether it is through the duplication of counts, the laying of additional or heightened charges that are marginal, or laying charges where the evidence barely meets the directed verdict threshold. Overcharging unduly lengthens and complicates a trial.

Footnote5 Charges must always be tailored to focus on the key evidence and the key issues relevant in the context of the individual case.

Crown counsel must carefully consider whether the public interest would be better served by declining to prosecute marginal charges or deciding not to pursue them once the evidence at trial is complete.

4. The Decision to Prosecute

As noted earlier, a prosecution should not be undertaken unless there is a reasonable prospect of conviction and the prosecution would best serve the public interest. Footnote6 The test applies to each individual accused, and every charge on the information or indictment.

If the available evidence does not meet the reasonable prospect of conviction standard, the decision to prosecute threshold is not met, and the prosecution should not proceed. Footnote7 If charges have been laid, those charges should be withdrawn or a stay of proceedings entered. Crown counsel must continue to consider the decision to prosecute criteria throughout all stages of the prosecution, until the exhaustion of all appeals. It is particularly important for Crown counsel to reconsider the criteria when new and credible information comes to light, including from the accused.

This entire proceeding is fraud, and I Wish to have the prosecutor charged with collusion for failing to process the charges onto the Registry. Please also see registry fraud below.

Fraudulent registration of title

386 Every person is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to imprisonment for a term of not more than five years or is guilty of an offence punishable on summary conviction who, as principal, agent or mandatary in a proceeding to register title to real property or immovable property, or in a transaction relating to real property or immovable property that is or is proposed to be registered, knowingly and with intent to deceive,

(a) makes a material false statement or representation,

(b) suppresses or conceals from a judge or registrar, or any person employed by or assisting the registrar, any material document, fact, matter or information, or

(c) is privy to anything mentioned in paragraph (a) or (b).

R.S., 1985, c. C-46, s. 386 2019, c. 25, s. 143

I Will not consent to any unfiled proceedings not 'processed' onto the Registry. You Will note in the attached email Kimberly MacDonald is sending the attached information, charge screening form and email from a fraudulent address MOJAG has instructed Me to ignore, 'virtual.crownottawa@ontario.ca', not 'virtualcrownottawa@ontario.ca', effectively impersonating the Crown to engage in Registry fraud with malicious intent to trespass upon a Trust Instrument on file with MOJAG

Relevant documents to present to the Judge for the 'first appearance' which I hereby make by Way of Special Present a Sean to alert the Court and respective prosecutor of the malicious intent to proceed in fraud.

Please also add the following link to the Court of Record related to this Matter.

All individuals in receipt of this email have already been noted in Default for their fraud, I Will be as King for the charges to immediately be quashed, and for a trial date to be set for both criminal prosecution and a civilized (Civil) remedy so that the trespasses against My Trust Instrument on file with MOJAG can be put to a rest (arrest warrants MUST be issued).

I look forward to hearing from You, this Will be published later today on vondehnvisuals.com, the International Court of Record regarding this Matter where an application has also been made to the International Criminal Court of Justice for Crimes Against Humanity for the unlawful bioweapon mandates of the Canadian government and their trusted health officials.

This malicious conspiracy against Me is targeted abuse for My advocacy work and My unvaccinated status which are both Constitutionally protected rights in Canada and a trespass upon My Trust Instrument.

Thank You kindly for Your attention to this Matter,

You are hereby served.
